INSPIRATION

INNOVATION FOR THOSE WHO CHANGE THE WORLD.
IMPROVE WELL-BEING AND STRENGTHEN THE COMMUNITY

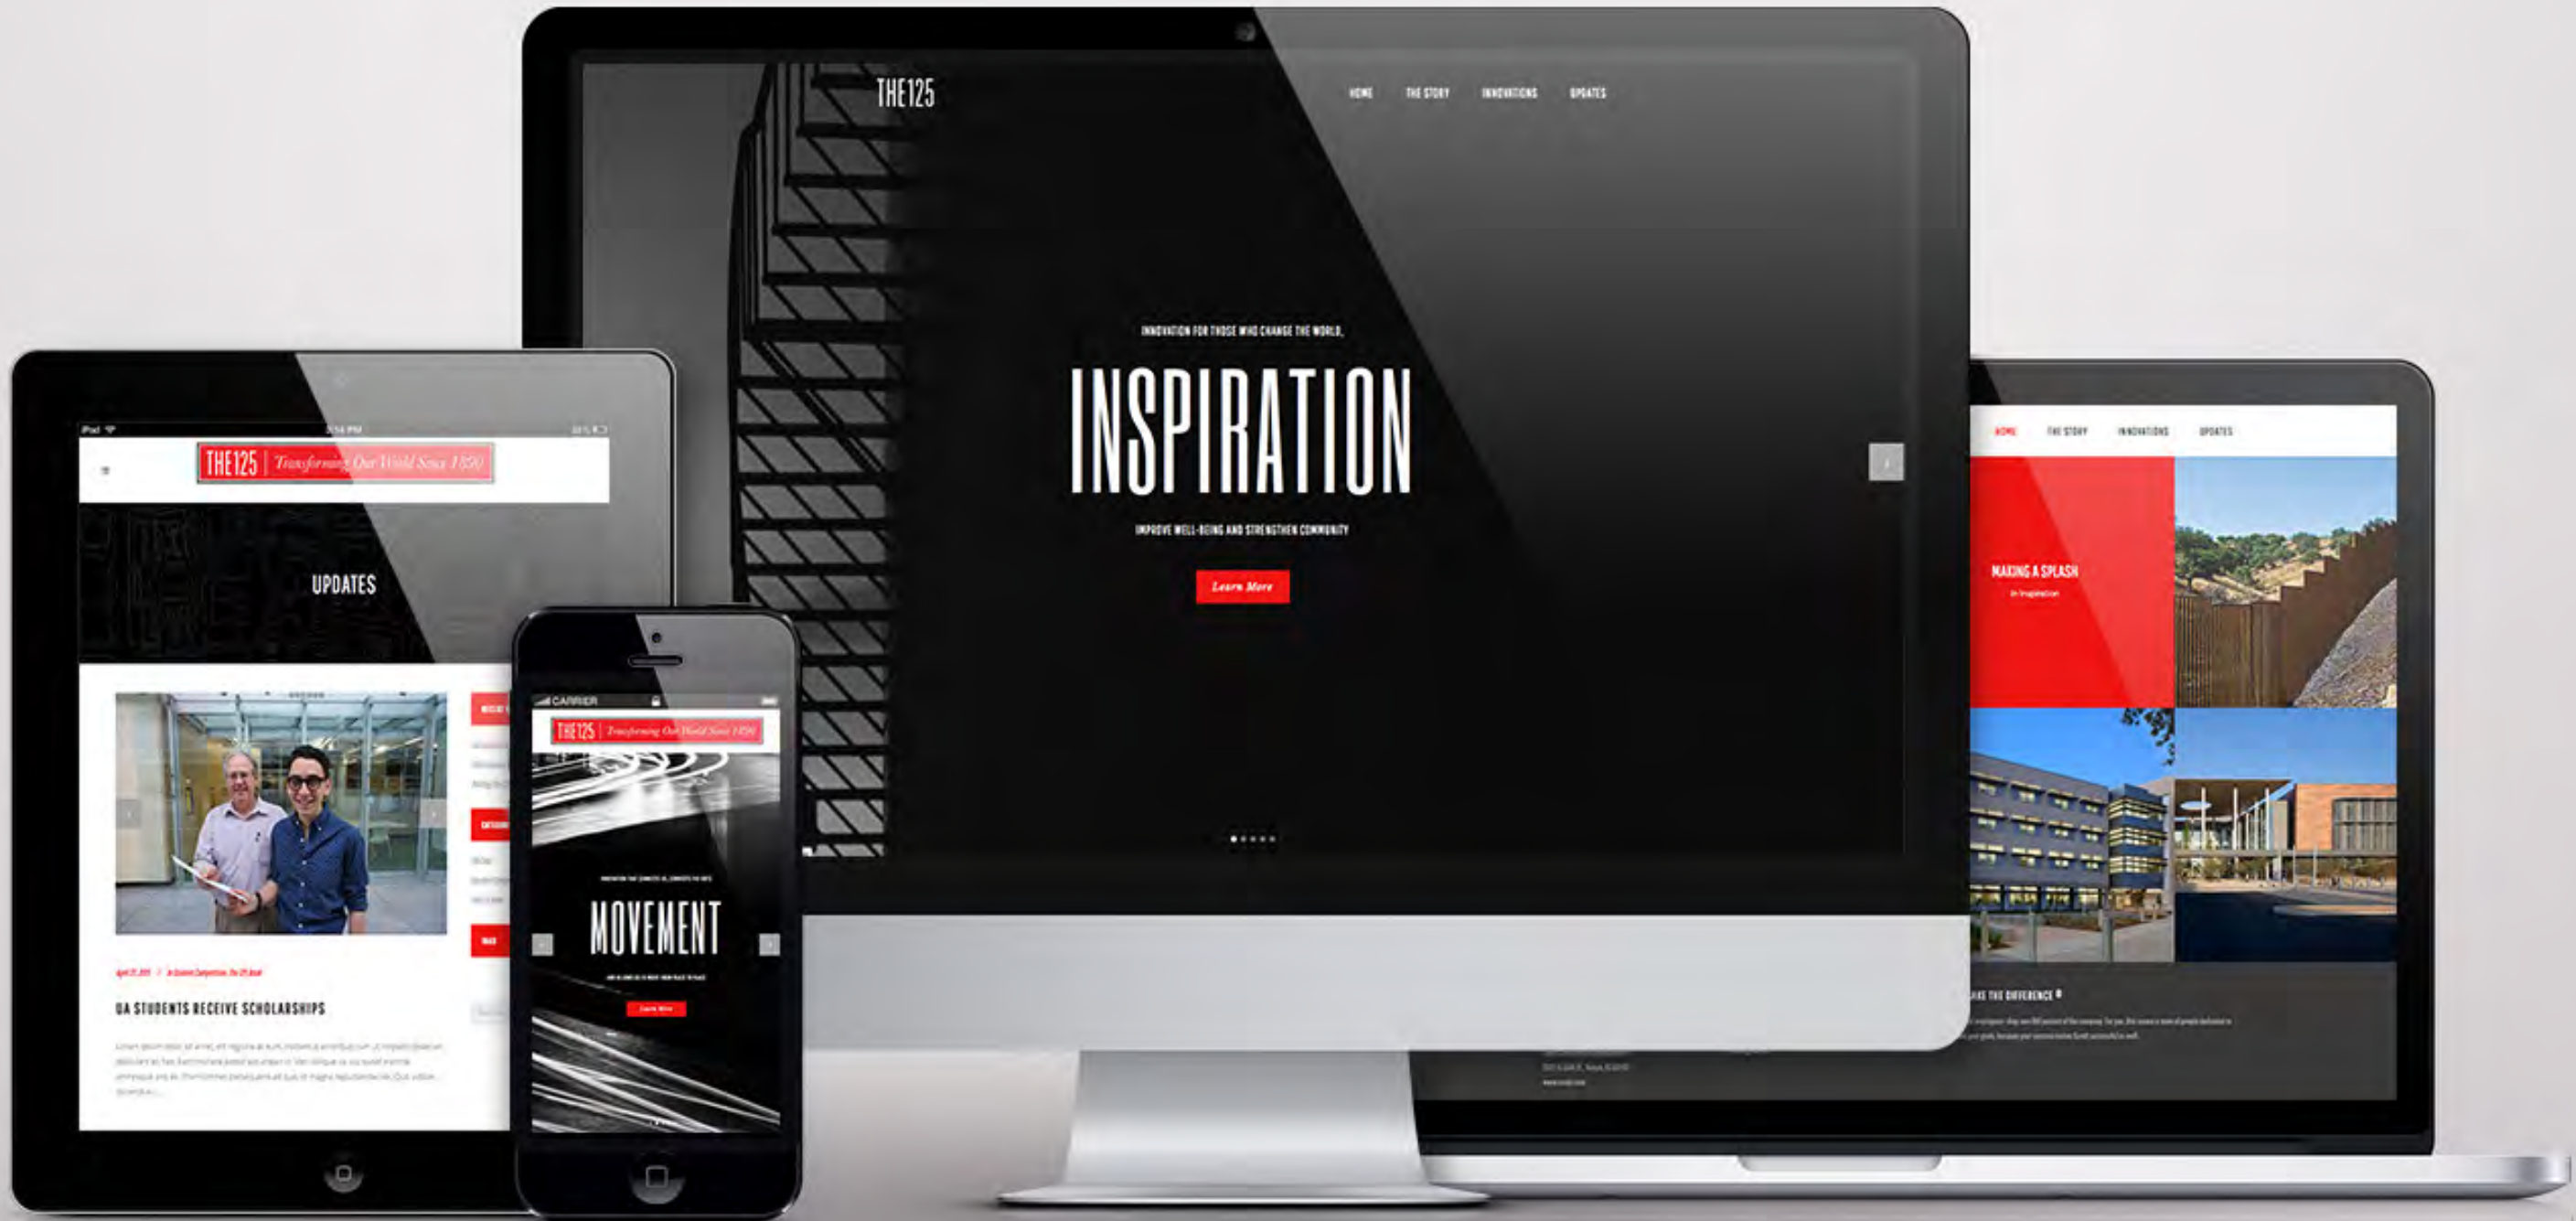

design inspired by

MARK SMALL | ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY 2015

Mark Small holds a Bachelor of Science in Visual Communication from The Design School at Arizona State University and specializes in the fields of print design, branding, corporate identity, and web design. Being inspired by Gantt and the principles of construction for this design solution, the relationship between the forces of structure and form drove the creative process. The process involved discovering an organized, yet abstract, articulation of the tension between those two forces. The graphic layout revealed after this process is one that is clean, yet efficient, exuding an eccentricity that still has weight and balance.

2nd Anniversary Quad
This Belgian-Style Quadrupel ale was brewed for our second anniversary in 2013 and was aged in retired whiskey barrels for over 6 months. Dark fruit and burnt caramel notes mingle with the unique flavors imparted from the barrel aging to create complexity and euphoria.

Professional Learning Plan - Kit for Teachers

Welcome to your Arizona K12 Center
Professional Learning Plan

Dear Educator,

Leading with Professional Learning Plans

The Arizona K12 Center: Arizona's source for quality professional learning and leadership training.

The Arizona K12 Center provides programs designed to deliver maximum value to districts, schools, and individual teachers. We support educators to explore innovative strategies and approaches, stay current with best practices, and become the teacher leaders our learning communities need.

Professional Learning Plan
Guide for Learning Communities

Standard for Reflective

"American teachers overwhelmingly judge the value of their professional growth by its effect on their students. Teachers are clear about the purpose of continuous learning. First and last, it is student learning that drives their passion for professional development."
